

NAME: Jim Hardy

CLASS OF: 2002

Destination: Loughborough University

Course: Computer Science

Current Job: Maths Teacher

Memories of School: Maths lessons with Mr Milner and Mr Ryland, spending far too much time playing online games in the common room, having to pass your Computer Proficiency test, playing 'pogs' in the playground, lunchtimes playing basketball on the tennis court, rugby matches with Mr Clarke.

Some Memorable Experiences of Your Life: Living in California taking school classes on week-long canoe trips, taking school groups on sailing expeditions in New Zealand, working in a Italian ski resort, cycling a lap of Iceland, walking 600 miles across Spain, running 150 miles across the Sahara, cycling 3000km across America.

Some Advice to Give: "Find your passion and follow it. You won't find that passion in things or money. Your passion must come from what fuels you from the inside. It will be grounded in the relationship you have with people and what they think of you when your time comes." – Randy Pausch
