

NAME: Emily Davies

CLASS OF: 2017

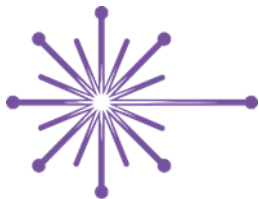

After finishing my A levels I worked full time then served as a volunteer missionary in Scotland and Ireland for The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints for fifteen months in 2018-2019. I have many unforgettable experiences and feel grateful and privileged to have gone.

I am currently studying part time at Open University doing a degree in Environmental Science and working part time at a residential care home. I quite like the style of working and studying together.

A fond memory at LSST would be doing the variety of sports such as climbing and rounders.

I would advise to take advantage of the resources and support the school provides and work hard but still find time to have fun and find joy.

It is not just about the grades it is also about a mixture of things like experience, reliability and honest to say a few.
