

NAME: Oliver Fluck

CLASS OF: 2015

A-levels : Maths, Further maths, Physics and AS Philosophy

After sixth form: I studied Mathematics and Philosophy at Worcester College, Oxford University.

Currently: I'm training to become a secondary school maths teacher in Hemel Hempstead, Hertfordshire.

Some school memories: Performing in the Arts Extravaganza with help from Mr Craven; drinking tea at philosophy club organised by Dr Stephens and a very muddy rugby game (which we won 12-10) at De Aston school in Market Rasen with some supervision from Mr Clarke.

Best advice I've been given: the people who are the best at something can be very different from each other.

Advice I'd give: do at least one puzzle or challenge a day for fun - and be excited to talk about it!
