

NAME: SAM HARDWICK

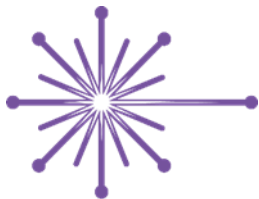

CLASS OF: 2000

I studied Electronic Engineering at the University of Surrey and then did a Business Masters at the University of Nottingham. Since 2005 I have been involved in launching and growing new businesses. I've had the pleasure of working for one the UK's fastest growing businesses and I've also launched several of my own successful ventures.

I loved my time at school; especially creating all sorts of things in the DT rooms.

My most memorable experiences have been the birth of my children, the death of my daughter and countless highs and lows in building innovative businesses.

My best advice is never be afraid to ask why things are done the way they are done. Challenge everything, especially within yourself. Why do you think the way that you do? Who told you? Keep an eye on your ego... it is the greatest hurdle to creating magic.
