

NAME: Kat Hughes

CLASS OF: 2008

After finishing school I had no idea what I wanted to do in life. I entered the big wide world of work and eventually decided to become a nurse three years after leaving. I graduated from The University of Nottingham in 2014 with a 2:1 in Adult Nursing. I now work as a Stroke Nurse in Lincoln. It's hard work but nursing is the best job in the world!

Away from work I'm a Detachment Commander in the Army Cadet Force, so my weekends are spent very muddy and passing on military and life lessons to the cadets. This has been one of the greatest and most rewarding experiences of my life to date.

There's so much pressure on teenagers to decide on the path for the rest of their lives so young. It's ok not to know. When you figure it out work hard, apply yourself and reap the rewards.
